Re: Notice of Mass Layoff at Hawaiian Airlines

Dear Mr. Murakami:

Due to the adverse effect on our business caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, Hawaiian Airlines, Inc. (the "Company") is forced to conduct a mass layoff of employees who are employed throughout its stations both here in Hawai'i and on the U.S. mainland. The layoffs will be affecting union employees in the following Hawai'i locations:

- Daniel K. Inouye Int'l Airport (HNL), 300 Rodgers Blvd, Honolulu, HI 96819
- Hilo Airport (ITO), 2450 Kekuaaoa St, Hilo, HI 96720
- Kahului Airport (OGG), 1 Keolani Pl, Kahului, HI 96732
- Kailua-Kona Airport (KOA), 73-200 Kupipi St, Kailua-Kona, HI 96740
- Lihue Airport (LIH), 3901 Mokulele Loop, Lihue, HI 96766
- 3375 Koapaka St., G-350, Hon., HI 96819, our corporate headquarters

While the CARES Act helped us temporarily avoid furloughs and involuntary separations, the economic effects of COVID-19 have continued to intensify and we now find ourselves having to right-size all aspects of our company to adapt. This is not an action we want to take but is a dire measure to help us outlast this drastic economic downturn and preserve the Company's future. Across the Company, we have already reduced operating expenditures, reduced pay for all executives, frozen hiring, and introduced voluntary leave and separation programs, among other cost-saving measures. While these efforts and the sacrifices made by hundreds of our employees who have participated in our voluntary leave program have made a difference, the demand for air travel remains more than 90% lower than last year. Even with the recent lifting of the quarantine restrictions for neighbor island travel, and even if demand continues to slowly improve, it is still necessary for the Company to reduce its workforce and labor expenses.

We are unable at this time to predict when our business operations will return to normal. As our union employees who are subject to layoff have rights under their respective collective bargaining agreements, they are considered temporarily furloughed but we anticipate that these furloughs will last six (6) months or longer. We currently anticipate that these union employee separations will begin no earlier than October 1, 2020 or during the 14-day period thereafter depending on the outcome of the Company's voluntary furlough program and negotiations with unions which are currently underway. Also, pursuant to applicable collective bargaining agreements, certain union employees affected by a reduction in force may be able to “bump” someone of lower seniority or may themselves be bumped, which will affect the overall number of potentially affected union employees. The number of involuntary furloughs may also be reduced if there is significant participation in the Company’s voluntary furlough program.

While we are unable to be precise given the factors that may affect the overall number of positions affected, based on current information, we anticipate that approximately 35% or 2037 union employees in Hawai‘i will be affected. As we learn more, we will provide updated information. Exhibit A is a listing of the potentially affected job classifications for union employees residing in the State of Hawai‘i and the number of potentially affected employees in each job classification. Exhibit B sets out the unions and union representatives who have been notified of the furlough dates affecting their respective members.

This letter is intended to fulfill any applicable notice requirements under the Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act (“WARN Act”) but should not be construed as a concession that notice under the WARN Act is required.

Should you have any questions regarding this notice, please do not hesitate to contact me at (808) 564-7470, or Aaron.Alter@HawaiianAir.com.

Very truly yours,

Aaron J. Alter
Executive Vice President & Chief Legal Officer
